

Azamara Cruise

Travel Guide

BEFORE YOUR CRUISE

CHECK TRAVEL DOCUMENTS

Locate your passport and verify that it is valid. All Azamara guests are required to carry a valid passport book (with at least six months' validity beyond the end of the voyage). Some itineraries or ports may also require visas or other documentation.

BOOK FLIGHTS, HOTEL AND TRANSFERS

We recommend arriving at least one night before your cruise. Flight delays, traffic, and weather are common reasons passengers miss their sailing. Contact Adventures by Amaris to book flights, hotel stays, and transfers.

BOOK EXCURSIONS AND MORE

Plan your trip through Azamara's website under Booked Guests / Manage My Booking. Log in to your sailing to reserve shore excursions, book pre- and post-cruise land programs, and add onboard packages. Pre-cruise specialty dining reservations are available for Prime C, Aqualina, and Chef's Table (booking windows open earlier for suite guests and higher-level Azamara Circle members). Spa treatments can also be reserved in advance.

BROWSE ACTIVITIES

Explore your itinerary, Destination Immersion experiences, AzAmazing Evenings, enrichment programs, and daily activities on Azamara's website. Bookmark or note activities of interest so you can plan around longer port stays and overnight calls, which are hallmarks of Azamara.

PREPARE FOR EASY CHECK-IN

Azamara uses a streamlined Easy Check-In process. At the pier you will present a valid passport, sign the cruise ticket contract, provide a credit card for onboard incidentals, and have a photo taken for your keycard. Embarkation generally begins in the early afternoon; suite guests and higher-level Azamara Circle members often have priority boarding.

SPECIAL NEEDS

If you or someone in your traveling party has special needs, please let Adventures by Amaris know so we can notify Azamara. Food allergies, mobility needs, CPAP machines, dietary restrictions, and other requests should be documented as early as possible.

DURING YOUR CRUISE

PACK YOUR CARRY-ON BAG

Staterooms will not be available until the afternoon and your checked bags may not arrive until the evening. Please pack anything you may need the first day in your carry-on bag. We also recommend carrying on any medically necessary items such as medicine, contacts, and medical devices. It is very rare, but sometimes checked bags do not make it. Pack your travel documents (including passports) in your carry-on bag.

STAYING INFORMED

Your stateroom television carries useful information about the ship, ports, and daily activities. You will also receive a daily news bulletin from your stateroom attendant. These contain weather, port details, activity schedules, and important sailing information. We highly recommend reviewing them every day.

KEYCARD

Your Azamara keycard is issued at embarkation. It unlocks your stateroom door, serves as your onboard charge card, and is required when leaving and returning to the ship in port.

TENDER PORTS

Your sailing may include tender ports. The ship will not dock and a small boat will take you from the ship to shore. You may need a timed ticket for the tender. Because Azamara ships are smaller, tendering is typically faster and less crowded than on larger vessels, but third-party excursions can still be challenging. Plan accordingly.

INCLUSION

What is included depends on your stateroom category and any packages you have added. Azamara's base fare includes select beverages, gratuities, main dining, an AzAmazing Evening, and self-service laundry. Suite guests receive additional inclusions. Azamara offers packages to include even more. Packages include items such as Unlimited Starlink Plus, upgraded beverage packages, shore excursion credits, specialty dining, laundry, and spa credits. Contact Adventures by Amaris Travel Agency to add more inclusions. The three packages offered are Experience More Essentials, Experience More Enjoyment, and Experience More Indulgence.

DISEMBARKATION

Azamara provides disembarkation details the day before you leave the ship. Details include your departure window and numbered tags for your bags. If you carry your own bags off the ship, you can usually disembark with an earlier group. You will clear customs and immigration upon arriving in port. Have your passports ready.

AFTER YOUR TRIP

COMPLETE THE SURVEY

Azamara will send a survey about your trip. Please fill it out and keep in mind that promotions and bonuses for the staff are partially determined by your words and rankings. We recommend addressing any issues with the staff during your stay so they have the opportunity to resolve them. Azamara's crew is known for attentive, personalized service and is often eager to help.